

Parkway Heights' Sunday School classes offer adults an extraordinary opportunity to experience Christian discipleship as they share their lives and understanding of God's love in a small group setting.

Curriculum varies with each class and may include Cokesbury Bible studies, current popular books or topical studies. We invite you to visit all classes to discover the group through which God will nurture your spirit.

Classes meet from 9:40 a.m.-10:30 a.m. on Sunday mornings.

COLLEGE CLASS

Room 240 | Teacher: Lonny Schraeder

This casual class for college-age and graduate students meets for fellowship and faith development. The class typically takes a break during summer.

DISCIPLE

Room 314 | Teachers: Ed Henderson & Fred & Diane Fisher

Disciple class is committed to studying different books of the Bible. The class is primarily comprised of married couples, married persons who attend without their spouses and singles. A wide range of ages is represented.

FIRESIDE CLASS

Fireside Room

Teacher: Keith Keeton

This class, which is made up of diverse ages (40ish-90ish), journeys together through Scripture, studying different books of the Bible.

GPS

Room 302-B

Teacher: Vicki Kibodeaux

The name GPS is indicative of how Christ leads our faith journey. In this class, you'll enjoy lively discussions on contemporary issues from a Biblical perspective. Diversity of membership contributes to the spiritual and intellectual growth experienced through this time together.

INDUCTIVE BIBLE STUDY

Room 303

Teacher: Susan Eaton

Inductive Bible study is a three-step process you can bring to any text in the Bible to help you understand, interpret and apply what you're reading. All you need is your Bible, a notebook or journal and a pen. Everyone is welcome to participate!

JESUS, ETC.

Room 305-A

Teachers: Rotating

This diverse, active group of couples (mostly parents, but all are welcome) engages in discussions of select materials and video lessons. The class often gathers for social events.

MILLENNIALS

Room 305-B

Teachers: Rotating

This lively group of adults takes on different topics of study, including reading through the entire Bible. The class also explores issues of faith relevant to life issues. All are welcome to join.

NEW DYNAMICS

Room 317

Teachers: Rotating

All ages are invited to participate in the New Dynamics class. In this class, you'll enjoy Biblical and topical studies written by progressive, contemporary writers.

SEEKERS

Room 315

Teachers: George Arcement, Jeff Evans & Bettie Ross

The Seekers class focuses on topical/book studies related to Christian discipleship. Choice of study emerges from the interests of the cross-generational membership.
